Wireless Remote Control with integrated Laser Pointer

Whether in a meeting ort during presentations – the PinPoint is your ideal companion. With the help of this wireless and light-weight remote control you can confidently work through your presentation. Switching slides or activating the next animation with the click of a button is like a walk in the park – even up to 8 meters range! Important elements can be directly pointed at and emphasized with the built-in laser pointer. The PinPoint in its compact size rests well in your hand. And a further advantage: the low power consumption! This means the battery in your Notebook is not overburdened and therefore retains long-lasting operation times – even without an external power supply unit.
